AGENDA ITEM 1

AGENDA ITEM

Informational Report on the Three Radar Tower Options under Consideration for the Mount Umunhum Environmental Restoration and Public Access Project, as well as Additional Relevant Information Regarding Long-Term Costs and Funding

AD HOC COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATION

Just for SEA

Receive an informational report on the three radar tower options for the Mount Umunhum Environmental Restoration and Public Access Project (Project), as well as additional relevant Project information regarding long-term costs and funding.

GENERAL MANAGER'S RECOMMENDATION

Review and consider a list of factors to help guide the Board's decision-making process for existing structures, including the radar tower.

SUMMARY

The Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the Mount Umunhum Environmental Restoration and Public Access Project (Project) was certified by the Board on June 12, 2012 (see Report R-12-59). At the same meeting, the Board approved a portion of the Project, the demolition of all structures except for the radar tower, as the part of the first phase of Project implementation. Other elements of the Project have yet to be approved by the Board of Directors and include: construction of parking areas, installation of minimal site amenities (such as trails and picnic tables), creation of a visitor center, installation of a backpack camp, and one of three options for the radar tower, for which there is no clear, environmentally-superior option.

At the July 18th open house and workshop, the Board and public will be provided the opportunity to review, question, and comment on the three radar tower options under consideration and new information regarding Project costs and funding. The first hour will be an informal open house where members of the public can preview information at various stations. The second hour will be the Board workshop, where District staff and expert consultants will present technical information relating to each radar tower option, including costs, opportunities and constraints, policy implications, and potential partnership considerations. At that time, staff will also present a preliminary list of factors for Board consideration to help guide the radar tower decision-making process. These same factors will also inform future discussions regarding structures that the District has, and will, inherit as part of future land purchases.

DISCUSSION

The Project was developed to identify public access opportunities for the former Almaden Air Force Station (AFS) located atop Mount Umunhum and Mount Thayer in Sierra Azul Open Space Preserve. The public access improvements proposed for the summit of Mount Umunhum include: a paved access road, drop-off area, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) parking, a summit court and view overlook, interpretation, trails, and seating areas. Also, three options are under consideration for the radar tower. Each option shares the goals of: 1) interpreting the site's history and natural history, i.e., the significance of the mountain to the Ohlone people, its place in military and Cold War history, and the unique flora and fauna that are native to the summit; and 2) providing universal access to the summit and to the various site amenities for people of all ability levels.

Radar Tower Options

The Project EIR analyzed all project elements that may conceivably be included as part of the final site design, including the potential environmental impacts that may result from the three radar tower options: 1) remove entire structure and environmentally restore the footprint; 2) remove majority of structure, but leave a publically accessible open-air structure with lowered walls; and 3) retain and seal the structure onsite. These three radar tower options are illustrated as conceptual renderings in Attachment 1.

The three radar tower options were developed over the past two years based on substantial public input, and guidance from the Sierra Azul/Bear Creek Redwoods Ad Hoc Committee at two design workshops held in December 2011 and May 2012. All three radar tower options and surrounding public access elements are conceptual in nature and based on site investigations and aerial photographic resources. They reflect an involved and deliberate landscape architectural design process that identified site-appropriate and fiscally-sustainable improvements for the Project Area.

Conceptual Cost and Maintenance Estimates

Staff and consultants have developed a conceptual cost estimate for the three radar tower options. Initial estimates were provided to the Ad Hoc Committee in May 2012 that have since been updated and are included in this report as Attachment 2. Note that while these are conceptual cost estimates, they are sufficient to provide a good cost comparison, as they are based on standard industry practice, professional experience, and knowledge of the current local construction market costs. At this time, it is not possible to accurately predict all constraints associated with future construction costs, such as material and labor costs, the contractor's method of establishing prices, or the market and bidding conditions at the time of bid. In summary, the costs are as follows:

Radar Tower Option	Estimated Construction Cost	Estimated Cost of Maintenance		Total Estimate over 40 years
		20 Years	40 Years
Remove and restore footprint	$639,319	-	-	$639,319
Open-air with lowered walls	$816,953	-	-	$816,953
Retain and seal	$1,105,876	+$250,000	+$500,000	$1,855,876

The conceptual cost estimate provides a basis for current and future costs associated with the three radar tower options. It excludes costs associated with staffing and general maintenance that would be inherited with any District structure or site that would normally be performed by District staff, such as repairs associated with exterior painting/sealing and minor concrete repair at or near the ground level. It is assumed that the two options (Open Air, Retain and Seal) that leave a portion or all of the structure would require these similar ongoing minor repairs near the ground level over their lifetime. The Restoration option is assumed to also require general maintenance associated with vegetation management and site maintenance. Since these costs would be similar for each option, these were not calculated. However, estimates for the Retain and Seal option do include 20- and 40- year maintenance costs associated with large capital repairs such as roof replacement at 20 and 40 years, and repainting and periodic crack repairs every 15 years for the entire 80-foot tall exterior, at a cost of $250,000 for the first 20 years, and $500,000 for the next 20 years. These necessary repairs would need to be conducted by a specialized contractor as part of a separate, public bidding process. In this context, the 40- year cost of ownership to the District increases the cost of the Retain and Seal option as shown in the table above but does not increase the cost of ownership to the District for the Restoration or Open Air options. The assumptions used to determine the maintenance cost for the Retain and Seal option are included in Attachment 2.

Decision Making Factors to Consider for Existing Structures, Including the Radar Tower

Typically, consideration of existing structures that are inherited as part of District land purchases involves, at a minimum, an evaluation of existing conditions, a determination of the structure’s value to the District and its constituents, short-term and long-term costs, maintenance, and staffing requirements. Because the radar tower has become the single greatest point of focus for the Project as a whole, staff prepared a list of factors to consider as part of the decision-making process. These factors are intended to provide a framework for discussion to assist the Board with determining the outcome for any structure (in this case, the radar tower) and to provide the public with an understanding of the factors that normally must be considered as part of the decision-making process. The unprioritized list of recommended factors is summarized in the table below alphabetically and described further in text that follows; note that Factors B. through I. have been pulled from existing Board policies.

A. Board-Adopted District Policies

The District Board of Directors has adopted various policies to guide day-to-day administration, operation, and management of District Preserves and to lay out the District's objectives and means by which it accomplishes the mission "to acquire and preserve a regional greenbelt of open space land in perpetuity; protect and restore the natural environment; and provide opportunities for ecologically sensitive public enjoyment and education". One factor to consider is whether the structure (or implementation option) under review is consistent with Board-adopted policies. The underlined headings B. through I. below were extracted or inferred from existing Board policies and include a brief summary to help lead a discussion of how they might apply to the radar tower, or any District structure.

Basic Policies

(Adopted on March 10, 1999)

The following are excerpts from the Basic Policies that are relevant to structures and facilities.

District Purpose

- a. As an open space agency, the District's primary purpose is to preserve open space. Development of traditional park and recreation facilities is the responsibility of the cities and counties.

Recreational Use and Improvements

- c. Improvements on District lands are generally limited to facilities (i.e. parking areas, trails and patrol roads, restrooms, mapboards, and signs) for low-intensity recreational uses. Low-intensity recreation avoids concentration of use, significant alteration of the land, and significant impact on the natural resources or on the appreciation of nature.

Special Use facilities, (i.e. nature centers, historic structures, picnic tables, or backpack camps), and Special Use activities (i.e. large recreation events, hang gliding, or off-leash dog areas), are considered on a case by case basis. In some cases Special Use activities may require a permit. These types of uses may be allowed when they do not monopolize significant areas of natural land, do not significantly impact natural or aesthetic resources, and provide benefits such as environmental education, heritage resource protection, or public enjoyment and appreciation of nature. The cost of management and exposure to liability of these types of facilities and activities may be a factor in deciding whether to permit them on District lands.

Cultural Resources

- e. Historic structures and sites will be considered for protection by the District where they are associated with lands acquired for overall open space values. Due to the high cost of evaluating, managing, and restoring such facilities, the District depends on grant assistance, public-private partnerships, and outside assistance to support these activities. Sites are evaluated for archaeological resources prior to any new use or improvement which might impact the site. Archaeological resources are evaluated, protected, and made known to the public as appropriate to ensure their preservation.

Cooperation

- a. The District cooperates with and encourages cooperation between governmental agencies, community organizations, and individuals to preserve open space. The District works cooperatively with other governmental agencies and community organizations to facilitate development and management of recreation facilities and of public use. The District ensures that such development is consistent with protection of important natural values of the open space.

Policies Regarding Improvements on District Lands

(Adopted January 1978, last amended July 2007)

This policy was developed by the Board to assist with the decision making regarding existing structures. Relevant excerpts are provided below. Underline and italics have been added to emphasize text that speaks to criteria, which have been pulled and discussed in further detail under items B through I:

Introduction

In the process of fulfilling its primary function of acquiring open space, the District also becomes the owner of structures and other improvements of varying condition, usefulness and value. Some of these improvements are appropriate to the open space around them, and others are not. Frequently, structures have some degree of historical value. As use of District lands increases, there will be additional pressure on the District to construct new facilities such as recreational buildings and parking lots. Since there are many costs involved with the maintenance, patrol and liability of structures, it is important that the District establish a policy for the use, construction and/or removal of structures on District lands. Information on specific structures and their use, potential uses and final disposition will be found in the specific site plans. The following policy statements are intended as a guide for the staff in the preparation of such specific site plans to be approved by the Board.

B. Policy Statement

All structures and other improvements existing on District lands at the time of acquisition are potential resources and as such will be considered for retention and will be addressed in the site plan. In other than emergency situations, public notice will be given to the degree specified in the Open Space Use and Management Planning Process and the Public Notification Policy before any decision is made by the Board to remove a major structure. The District will retain and maintain or build a structure or other improvement only if it is complementary to the objectives of the District outlined in the Basic Policy. Important considerations in the decision to retain an improvement will be its compatibility with the open space character of the site, its potential financial burden to the District in terms of liability and management, historic value, and its proposed use. Existing structures which have identified potential uses may be retained for a specified period as stated in the use and management plan for the site. Other improvements will be removed from the site as soon as it is economically feasible within the constraints of the land management budget. The time scale for the removal will be determined on the basis of both the cost of removal and the degree of negative impact on the site. The site plan will consider the cost and practicality of salvaging materials being removed.

Regarding structures having special merit, the same policy states:

C. Discussion

(3) Improvements which Contribute to the Character of the Site: (e.g., Buildings with Unique Historical or Architectural merit, Barns, Sheds and Fences)

In order for the Board to determine the historical, cultural or architectural significance of a structure, the District will notify and consult such agencies as specified in the land Use and Management Planning Process Document.

As an aid to this determination, the District will conduct and maintain a survey of significant structures within the planning area. When the District considers acquisition of a site which includes a structure or structures which are listed on the National Register for Historic Places or are clearly eligible for inclusion on that register, the District has a special responsibility to seek some means to protect these structures. An important consideration in the decision to retain such structures will be the availability of special funding programs or resources from other public agencies, private organizations or individuals for the costs of their restoration, maintenance and operation. In extraordinary situations involving structures of exceptional historical or architectural merit, when other resources are not available, the District will either exclude the structures from its acquisition or accept the responsibility to protect and preserve them for an indefinite period while seeking other means for continued preservation and/or restoration as identified in the historical resources inventory.

Some structures associated with agriculture or other former uses of the site can contribute significantly to the site without detracting from its open space character. When economically feasible within the constraints of the land management budget, examples of these structures will be retained, maintained, and whenever possible, put to use.

B. Compatibility with Open Space Character of the Site

As discussed in the Policies Regarding Improvements on District Lands (see above), it is important to consider whether the structure under consideration is believed to be compatible with and/or add to the character of the site and the surrounding landscape. In the case of the radar tower, many members of the public have stated that it provides a sense of place as seen from afar, while others have noted that it detracts from the natural ridgeline. Also, as seen from the summit, the radar tower is physically substantial, and a highly prominent feature that subtracts a portion of the scenic panoramic views; however, a lone tree could also subtract from a panoramic view. Nevertheless, it is important to note that all of the various views from the summit may be obtained by moving around the radar tower structure.

C. Historic Value

The Policies Regarding Improvements on District Lands calls for the gathering of information pertaining to the historical, cultural, or architectural significance of a structure. Existing historic-era structures inherited through past purchases or under consideration for purchase would require surveys conducted by an expert consultant to evaluate the structure's potential eligibility for listing in the National Register of Historic Places (National Register) and the California Register of Historic Resources (CRHR). As part of this survey, the history and significance of individual buildings and structures should be placed in context of any remaining or demolished larger facility in order to determine eligibility for listing. Taken together, these assessments would be necessary to determine historic significance and integrity.

The EIR for the Project was certified by the Board on June 12, 2012 (see Report R-12-59). This analysis concluded that implementation of the Project would not result in any impacts on any documented historical resources presently listed or possibly eligible for listing in the CRHR. This is because no resources are known to be present within the project site and none of the historic-era structures within the project appear to be associated with important historic events or persons at the national, state, or local level.

D. Partnership Opportunities/Cooperation

The Basic Policy, as stated above, includes a commitment to cooperatively engage with other agencies, community organizations, and individuals to preserve open space and to facilitate development and management of recreation facilities and public use. Beyond this, private organizations and entities could also provide cost-sharing and partnership opportunities to retain and/or manage structures. Existing structures may be more attractive to an entity if accessory amenities are already provided or are anticipated, such as the proposed staging area at Bald Mountain and the trail linking it to the summit, or if a portion of the structural improvements are already completed. The Board may also want to consider the minimum match amount needed for the District to retain a structure. Consideration may be given to a situation where only a portion of the necessary funding to retain a structure is actually obtained by outside sources. In this situation, District cost-sharing would be necessary.

E. Potential Financial Cost, Including Liability and Management

The Policies Regarding Improvements on District Lands identifies cost as an important consideration in the decision to retain an improvement. Refer to the section above entitled Conceptual Cost and Maintenance Estimates for a discussion on short term and long term costs.

F. Proposed and Potential Uses

The Policies Regarding Improvements on District Lands raises the structure's proposed use as an important consideration in the decision to retain or remove it. In the case of the radar tower, staff has worked closely with consultants to evaluate structural conditions and provide recommendations for repairs necessary to 'repurpose' the structure into an occupied structure; that is, to reuse the ground floor, or all floors, for public use. The requirements for an occupied, accessible structure and their associated costs are shown in Attachment 1, in Appendix A, under the section entitled "Accessible Tower". A fully accessible building that allows public access to all floors in the building was not supported by the Ad Hoc Committee as one of the tower options to be recommended to the full Board, and the evaluation of environmental impacts for this option was not part of the Project Description approved by the full Board in December 2010. However, the Ad Hoc Committee directed staff to evaluate the requirements and cost associated with this fully accessible option to better understand the cost implications and financial feasibility. The conceptual construction cost for a fully accessible structure is estimated to be $6,395,717, with a total cost of ownership over a 40-year period estimated to be $7,395,717 (Attachment 1, Appendix A).

Based on the cost associated with improving the structure for human occupancy and use, it was not considered feasible for reuse as a future visitor center, if the Board approves a visitor center as part of the Project. Although it is typically desirable to re-use existing structures, in this case building a new facility that meets current code would be much more cost effective. Also, the remoteness of the location precludes it from being a reasonable storage facility for District needs associated with the Project, which would require similar work to bring the structure up to code for human occupancy (sprinkler system for fire, electricity, etc.).

G. Public Sentiment and Input

Consideration of the radar tower has elicited the strongest and most varied response from the public and staff (see Summary of Public Comment below). Throughout the project planning and environmental review process, the question regarding the outcome of the radar tower has generated by far the most comments. Many commenters shared their values, personal experiences, memories, and desires for the outcome of this decision-making process. The social importance to many of the commenters is evident from those letters: borne of personal experiences living with the tower as part of the landscape, as children growing up the region, as adults, and as veterans; as a visual reminder of important memories relating to the Cold War in general, and this former Air Force Station in particular; and just as an object of unusual visual interest. While other structures currently owned or being considered for ownership by the District may not elicit the same level of public interest, it is important to consider and evaluate each single comment that is received as part of the decision-making process.

H. Tradeoffs and Impacts on District Resources

Every budget cycle brings tough decisions to the District. In an environment of competing resources, some projects move forward while others must be deferred. This requirement to choose one project over another forces the District to compare the values and priorities of each project: for example, the value of completing one highly worthwhile resource management project ahead of another. Any determination about the radar tower, or any other structure, will also need to be judged against other competing projects, new land purchases, etc., in terms of cost, maintenance requirements, and staffing.

I. Visitor Experience

The Mission Statement of the District includes “opportunities for ecologically-sensitive public enjoyment and education”. The goal of the Project is aligned with this mission, and consideration should be given as to whether the radar tower at Mount Umunhum adds value to, or takes away from the visitor experience.

Summary of Public Comment

It is clear that of all the project elements, the radar tower has produced the strongest and widest range of opinions among the public, staff, and agencies. The number of individual written comments and online petitions that have been received since the last meeting on June 12 (when the Board certified the EIR) are shown below. The number of multiple-choice postcards represents the total received since the beginning of the project (refer to Attachment 3 for more detail).

Type of comment	Number in Favor of Removing Tower (Restoration or Open Air)	Number in Favor of Retaining Tower (Retain and Seal)
Individual written comment	8	43
Online petition	N/A	802
Multiple choice postcards	N/A	80

Late comments will be made available for review at the July 18, 2012 meeting and will be incorporated as Late Attachment 4.

FISCAL IMPACT

Funds for the Project, including consultant fees, public meeting facility rentals, and public notification costs, were included in the Planning Department’s FY2012-13 budget. There are no direct costs associated with this Board item, including the draft list of factors to consider for considering the retention or removal of structures.

BOARD COMMITTEE REVIEW

The Sierra Azul/Bear Creek Redwoods Ad Hoc Committee met twice in December 2011 and May 2012 to participate in a radar tower design charrette and provide direction to staff. The options for the radar tower presented to the Board are consistent with the Committee’s recommendation.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notices about this special meeting of July 18, 2012 were sent to nearly 3,200 interested parties, in addition to approximately 1,500 email recipients, including all individuals and organizations requesting notice. Notification about the meeting and its location was included in the summer 2012 District newsletter, which receives wide distribution. Information regarding the radar tower options was also made available on the District’s website.

CEQA COMPLIANCE

Participating in a public Open House and Board workshop does not constitute a project under the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), as it will not result in a direct or reasonably foreseeable indirect physical change in the environment [CEQA Guidelines Section 15060(c)(2)]. On June 12, the Board certified the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the Project (see Report R-12-59) and also approved demolition of the remaining structures except for the radar tower. The Board has yet to make a decision on the remaining Project elements, including new public access facilities and the disposition of the radar tower. The Board-certified Project EIR, however, did analyze all of the potential environmental impacts and mitigation measures associated with the potential public access improvements and radar tower options that are currently under public and Board review. Prior to making any decision on the remaining Project elements, which are expected at future meetings in the fall, the Board will first need to consider adoption of the CEQA Findings of Fact, approval of the Mitigation Monitoring Plan, and adoption of a Resolution for the Project.

NEXT STEPS

A public meeting of the Board of Directors is scheduled for Wednesday, September 19, 2012 at 7:00pm at the Arrillaga Family Community Center in Menlo Park to consider approving remaining elements of the Project, except for the radar tower.

Summit and Tower Area Restoration / Construction Costs (Sitework)	22
Accessible Tower Scheme	23

BASIS OF ESTIMATE

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

This cost estimate evaluates three schemes for the Tower Area on the site: (1) demolishing the Tower and restoring its footprint with native plants, (2) demolishing the Tower to the first floor and leaving an open air ground floor exhibit area, or (3) performing essential repairs to the Tower, and then sealing the facade to prohibit public access. Each of these three schemes is distinctive, however, they all share the same essential site design approach and site costs which are outlined in the Appendix. The three schemes are:

Restoration

The Restoration scheme demolishes the Tower and recycles the concrete for use in site work and as fill. The ground floor slab remains and is restored with concrete fill, topsoil and native plants. This scheme returns the Tower footprint to a native landscape setting compatible with the surrounding summit area native landscape. Interpretive exhibits are installed around the restored site landscape.

Open Air

This Open Air scheme demolishes the Tower to the top of the first floor, leaving an open air structure. Tower concrete is recycled for site work and fill. First floor walls and columns are preserved and reconfigured into an open air public space. Maximum remaining wall and column height is approximately 12-13 feet, with other wall heights at 3 - 6 feet. Portions of demolished upper Tower walls and floors are saw-cut to create the structure. Some wall sections are repurposed as site furnishings such as seatwalls, low tables, and seating blocks. Interpretive exhibits are installed on the walls and columns, and repurposed concrete wall sections.

Retain and Seal

In the Retain and Seal scheme, the Tower remains and the public can walk up to and touch the building, but the interior is not publically accessible. Interior access is limited to MROSD maintenance staff. All openings are sealed for security and a secure maintenance access door is installed. The Tower roof is repaired. Tower surfaces are repaired and painted with anti-graffiti paint. Interpretive exhibits are installed at the base of the Tower or within the immediate site.

BASIS OF ESTIMATE

BASIS FOR PRICING

This estimate reflects the fair construction value for this project and should not be construed as a prediction of low bid. Prices are based on local prevailing wage construction costs at the time the estimate was prepared. Pricing assumes a procurement process with competitive bidding for all sub-trades of the construction work, which is to mean a minimum of 3 bids for all subcontractors and materials/equipment suppliers. If fewer bids are solicited or received, prices can be expected to be higher.

Subcontractor markups have been included in each line item unit price. Markups cover the cost of field overhead, home office overhead and subcontractor's profit. Subcontractor markups typically range from 15% to 25% of the unit price depending on market conditions.

General Contractor's Site Requirement costs are calculated on a percentage basis. General Contractor's Jobsite Management costs are also calculated on a percentage basis.

General Contractor's overhead and fees are based on a percentage of the total direct costs plus general conditions, and covers the contractor's bond, insurance, site office overheads and profit.

Unless identified otherwise, the cost of such items as overtime, shift premiums and construction phasing are not included in the line item unit price.

This cost estimate is based on standard industry practice, professional experience, and knowledge of the local construction market costs. TBD Consultants have no control over the material and labor costs, contractor's methods of establishing prices, or the market and bidding conditions at the time of bid. Therefore, TBD Consultants do not guarantee that the bids received will not vary from this cost estimate.

An Owner's Contingency and Change Order Contingency has not been included in this construction cost estimate, but it is advised that MROSD carry additional contingency to cover scope changes, claims and delays.

DESIGN CONTINGENCY

The Design Contingency is carried to cover scope that lacks definition and scope that is anticipated to be added to the Design. As the Design becomes more complete, the Design Contingency will be reduced. All schemes used a 15% Design Contingency. Note that the Design Contingency for the Retain and Seal scheme (Davis Langdon estimate) is built into the Davis Langdon costs for this scheme which TBD carried forward.

20 & 40 YEAR MAINTENANCE COSTS (for Retain and Seal scheme only)

Order of magnitude costs for the following maintenance items have been included in the summary:

Retain and Seal

- 1) Roof replacement at 20 and 40 years
- 2) Repainting and minor crack repairs every 15 years

NOTE: All other MROSD costs for supervision, insurance, supplies etc. are excluded

BASIS OF ESTIMATE

ESCALATION

Escalation has been included in the estimate and reflects the anticipated increases in labor and materials up until the mid point of construction. Escalation is calculated as compounding year on year.

An allowance of 12% is included for schemes estimated from April 2012. An additional 4% has been applied to any numbers used in the current estimate from the February 2011 (Davis Langdon, Retain and Seal) estimate.

This calculation does not account for adverse bidding conditions and a separate contingency should be carried if there are limited qualified bidders or if a market research study indicates a need for this contingency.

SOFT COSTS & ADDITIONAL COSTS

For the purpose of this estimate, soft costs that will be incurred by MROSD have been based on a percentage of the construction costs. Typically soft costs range from 25% - 40% of construction costs and for the nature of work required for this project TBD estimate that MROSD will incur no less than an additional 30% in soft costs. Other additional costs which are unique to this project have also been identified separate from the direct estimate total, these are carried below the line on summary pages.

Soft costs are not limited to but are likely to include the following:

- Construction Change Orders
- Construction of Temporary Facilities
- Hazardous Waste Remediation
- FF&E (Fixtures, Furnishings & Equipment) except where noted otherwise
- Design Fees
- Value Engineering Services
- Survey / Utility Mapping
- Utility Connection Fees
- Constructability Reviews
- Security Plan
- Testing & Inspections
- Program Contingency
- Licenses
- Moving / Temporary Storage
- Santa Clara County Plan Check Fees

EXCLUSIONS

- Construction Management
- Hazardous Materials Inspection
- Geotechnical Study (beyond the R&C 2011 report)
- Slope Mitigation (noted in the R&C 2011 report)
- Third Party MEP Commissioning
- Utility Company Back Charges, including work required off-site
- Overtime, 2nd Shift and Lost Productivity Premiums
- Construction or Occupancy Phasing
- Owner's Contingency and Change Order Contingency for scope changes and market conditions at time of bid
- Items identified in the design as Not In Contract (NIC)
- Permits

BASIS OF ESTIMATE

ITEMS THAT MAY AFFECT THIS ESTIMATE

Such items include, but are not limited to the following:

- Modifications to the scope of work subsequent to the preparation of this estimate
- Unforeseen existing conditions
- Special Requirements for Site Access, Off-hour Work or Phasing Activities which differ to those stated in the R&C report, dated May 2012
- Restrictive Technical Specifications, Excessive Contract or Non-competitive Bid Conditions
- Sole Source Specifications for materials, products or equipment
- Bid Approvals delayed beyond the anticipated project schedule

SLOPE MITIGATION

In place of the Slope Mitigation Costs (R&C / Davis Langdon Tower and Slope Mitigation Costs May 2011), per MROSD direction, the project shall hold an allowance of $25,000 for South Slope Mitigation only. Subject: Mt. Umunhum cleanup and restoration

I am very excited about the inclusion of the Mount Umunhum in the Sierra Azul Open Space Preserve. The cleanup and removal of the Almaden Air Force Station is an important part of creating a truly unique addition to the Midpeninsula Open Space District.

However, I'm extremely disappointed that the district would consider keeping the unsightly concrete block that sits on top of the mountain. I strongly disagree with Mercury News columnist Scott Herhold that this ugly monstrosity should remain. Certainly there are a few former Air Force personnel who have nostalgic memories of this old site. However, the stated purpose of the district is "to purchase, permanently protect, and restore lands forming a regional open space greenbelt, preserve unspoiled wilderness, wildlife habitat, watershed, viewshed, and fragile ecosystems, and provide opportunities for low-intensity recreation and environmental education."

It's a real stretch to see how preserving this block of concrete fits these goals. As a former cold warrior, who spent a year staring at a radar screen in a similar structure in Vietnam, I definitely do not want to see any reminders of that era in an open space preserve.

Dear Sirs,

I believe it is vital to honor the cold war veterans by creating a museum on Mt Umunhum. While some might believe it only housed a battalion of Air Force personnel, what the airmen did kept the U. S. out of war for over thirty years. Without a museum, we will forget that our most successful war since WWII removed the USSR from their attempt at world domination and we DID NOT lose through military battles our military personnel in that effort.

Simple plaques could be placed on the tower as a start and then with the help of people like Basim Jaber and myself, a constant reminder can be instituted that the world needs protection from tyrants. It could show the interaction between this facility and the other facilities throughout the East and west coasts. Please DO NOT spend funds to remove the tower. Spend it instead on preserving our history. Sincerely, Art Boudreault, Co-Author of Images of America: New Almaden

Once you tear it down it is GONE forever. I was stationed at the Air Force Radar Station at Mt Hebo, OR. At this location we had the same radar as on Mt Umunhum and a radar tower of the same size that was visible for miles around. The Mt Hebo radar tower and the entire radar station are now GONE forever. There is just one sign less than 2 feet square with a brief narrative to indicate what once resided on top of Mt Hebo and was an integral part of the nation's air defenses that kept us all safe during the Cold War.

When I visit Mt Hebo now I am left with the memories of what was. Do I have future regret that the radar tower on Mt Hebo was torn down - absolutely! Visitors often stop at the nearby US Forest Service station for the Siuslaw National Forest to inquire about the location and features of the Mt Hebo radar station. That it was torn down and is GONE forever is a somber reply and very disappointing for most!

I travel by the Gettysburg battlefield at least twice a year and you can see the monuments and the place where the 20th Maine fought on Little Round Top. The fence that held up Pickett's charge can be seen. The jog in the Union line on the third day called the "Angle" can be seen. You walk where the soldiers walked and many died.

Harrisburgh, PA has the National Museum of the Civil War with actual artifacts. The same is true of the Pamplin National Museum of the Civil War Soldier at Petersburg, VA. The people dimension of this war is there at both locations to be seen, touched, and understood. No book is needed. It is clear to all how far we have come since brother fought brother. It is wonderful to see and touch real uniforms, equipment, weapons, and the soldier's personal kit of 150 years ago. The bloody sunken road at Antietam, MD can be walked on, and the cornfield is where it was 150 year ago. The stone bridge over Antietam Creek that held up Union General Burnside's IX Corps is there and anyone can see why the Confederate forces delayed a much larger Union force. This is not history by book or photographs. This is reality and you can reach out and touch it.

THIS IS WHAT IS GONE FOREVER when you tear down a major installation of the Cold War, or any prominent/historical feature of a locality, or the nation itself. When I visit Mt Hebo now I am left with just the memories of what was. For the present you can see what was on Mt Umunhum. Should our children and grandchildren of the future be denied the opportunity to see the real thing and form their own memories of what was and place it in context? I say NO and I don't want them to be the real losers! Save the treasures you have on Mt Umunhum.

Dear Board,

Thanks for working to make Mount Um open to the public. However, it is very important that the tower be saved. Views are great, but can be found in lots of places. The tower is what makes the mountain what it is. No one knows what Mount Um is until you say, "it is the mountain with the cube on top." "Oh, yeah, I know where that is." There are no do-overs on this one. Don't destroy it and the history of that mountain. Thanks so much for your consideration on this very important issue.

I moved here in 1976. I have used "the box" on Mt. Umunhum ever since as the southern equivalent of the north star, Polaris, to orient my position. I am now retired and a Child Advocate. I am teaching children how to use it to get their bearings. Bearings are important to them. I would be very sad to have it go away. If it isn't feasible to preserve "the box", other approaches - like another structure visible from the vally that is cheaper to maintain - should be investigated.

Please do not tear down the radar tower, I grew up here in San Jose. Every time you look up to the hill and see the tower you know where you are. The tower is a reminder of days gone by, and helps to remember my childhood here in the valley. I do not know how many of the board grew up here, but if they did they would understand what the tower means to residents. The tower means many things to different people, but it means something to everyone who grew up here. I hope you decide to keep the tower, it would be a big mistake to tear it down. Thanks for your time.

Subject: Mount Um Tower Feedback

Hello, Please forward this letter to the appropriate people. Than you.

I am writing regarding the fate of the radar tower on top of Mt. Um. I care deeply about open space and have donated money frequently to your organization over the years in support of your efforts to preserve our heritage.

I understand that you may have your own ideas as to what is appropriate in an area of "open space". However, I live in Almaden Valley and the Mt. Um tower is an integral part of our community. When I look down my street, Mt.Um towers over us every day. I guarantee that the vast majority of residents in Almaden and New Almaden want the tower to remain in its current size and shape. Nearby Quicksilver Almaden Park has remnants from its former mining history which enhances the park rather than detracting from its interest. Please don't destroy the history of our places while trying to "preserve" them.

I would like to see a museum established in the tower and the ability to walk to the top and take in the view from there. All the time I have lived here, the tower area has been off-limits. I am anxious to go up there and see it for my self. Most likely the Almaden community would use this new open space more than any other group of people.

I will be very upset if Mid-Pen chooses to run rough-shod over the wishes of our community in this matter, as there doesn't seem to be any need to remove the tower, just a desire on some people's part to eliminate it.

Save the building and make it a museum for that time period, the Cold War. remember the Orions flying over all the time. The other high peaks have their history on top, Mt.Diablo, original measurements of California; Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton; the railroad on Mt.Tamalpais. We need reminders of our history as well as trails.

One should not be too fast on removing history. The tower is and should always be a reminder of our fight for freedom. Many men and women gave their time and lives then and are still doing so now. If it came to a vote of the public the tower would stay. I think that your organization has no intent on ever opening the space to the public at any time. Remember the only way that your group can do what it does is do to the fact that our men and women in uniform then and now fight for your freedom and now you want to remove one more reminder of that. I think that the tower at Almaden Air Force Base should stay.

After attending the Tuesday meeting and listening to all the responses from the staff and the public, three more issues came to mind that were not completely addressed. (best to design it correctly the first time instead of later)

1: Helicopter landing site. Although an area is set aside for it, I should point out it would be well advised to have someone who is an experienced Helicopter pilot review possible landing sites. Wind is a major concern there. I believe the site should be at one of the highest points so if a helicopter is needed is able to land and depart easily into the wind and where an emergency vehicle has clear access. You do not want to have to clear a parking lot in an emergency.

2. The water tank location. The tank would not only provide drinking water but also be used for fire suppression. That being the case, the road leading to it needs to be designed to handle the heavy fire trucks that will be reloading water from it. Plus adequate turn around space. Water weighs 7+ pounds per gallon. So a 5,000 gallon fire tanker is carrying over 35,000 pounds of water not including its own weight.

3: Hang gliders. Just a few unanswered questions. Has anyone discussed where they will be landing? Where do they have permission to land? Is a special area going to be provided just for hang gliders? Access? At what skill level will they be before flying? Who's going to rescue them when they crash? Who is going to pay for the rescue? Permit or not liability is an issue.(thought I'd point that out)

In response to the gentleman who said we were idiots during the cold war and God has spoken, we tracked Russian TU-95 Bombers down the West Coast, so the Soviet Union was a real threat. Thank you

Subject: Plea to remove Radar Box off Umunhum

To: Open Space -- who care about the preservation of nature.

It is quite the marvel to me how could any entity or individual could possibly think or suggest that the disfiguring, strange embarrassing nipple like building (radar box) right on the pinnacle of beautiful Mount Umunhum is any type of positive contribution to nature? This protruding defacement of a natural wonder is a disgrace to the environment. I cannot imagine how anyone in our community who claims any level of environmental integrity would vote to allow this borderline obscene structure to destroy the view and natural flow of the lovely peak. This mountain may not have all the glory of the Grand Canyon, but it deserves at least some respect for its natural beauty and scenic value. Please remove this obsolete obstructive, man made eyesore from off the top of MT. Umunhum.

Please let me know any other action that I can take other than attending the upcoming meeting in July? I think if we want to honor any veterans, it should be in some other manner with an appropriate plaque or smaller monument than a structure 5 stories tall most likely full of asbestos, etc.... Thank you for your help. Kay Wheeler-- San Jose, CA

Hello,

I have always been interested in Mt. Umunhum and wonder what you are doing to an area that has a meaning to the community in the San Jose area. I have seen the environmental agencies had their way with a historical site. I know you are all worried about the lead and abistos that are in the buildings that are on the land. I wish there were people in your organization that made an argument to keep at least the tower but I guess the forks have been inserted too deeply from the environmental movement and government bureaucracy to make an historical site to fold. I am not happy with your direction of choice nor the way this organization has treated the old radar base on mt umunhum.

The community has too many open areas in Santa Clara County for one aspect of the community. What about those who are interested in historical sites? Do they have a say? According to your doctrine, I guess not! I have lived in Almaden for many years and that radar tower is now a part of that mountain regardless of what others have to say. Your agency could have sent in a proposal to make it a historical site and keep some of the history in which I grew up with. Ansel Adams was one person who played a major part in the environmental movement and helped make Yosemite a national park. I will leave you with the words of Adams as he took a last glance at a relic of World War II- seacoast fortification.

"It seems that anything manmade that endures in time acquires some qualities of the natural. Bleak shapes grow into magic that once seen cannot be easily ignored." Thank you for your time.

Hello, I got your Email address from the editorial about Mt. Umunhum in the June13, San Jose Mercury/News. We have lived in Almaden Valley for nearly 50 years. I just want to say that we are very much in favor of keeping the 5-story tower on Mt. Umunhum. It has been a point of interest and delight for us and for our children and grandchildren. On our way home from any where to the North, we always look for the building on the mountain to see how much longer we have to go until we are home. Also it has an historical significance from the 'Cold War'. There are not many places that I know of that have that distinction. Almaden Valley would not be the same without it. And we very much look forward to visiting the peak should it become a regional park.

Please forward my note above to any organization or to anyone or who might be interested in the opinion of an Almaden Valley resident about the proposed Mt. Unumhum access and keeping our well loved tower/cube. Thank you for your consideration.

Subject: Preserve the Mt. Umunhum Tower!

To the Midpeninsula Regional Open Space District:

Please save the Mt. Um radar tower....as one who's lived in Almaden Valley for nearly 30 years, that's our landmark! Everyone around here orients themselves using that tower. Kids learning to drive find their way homes using that tower (seriously). I ride my horse and hike through Quicksilver several times a week and it is always a lovely and comforting site above us. Driving home in the evening, it rises above the valley serenely like a welcoming beacon. If I imagine the mountaintop without it, it becomes just another hill along the ridgeline.

The cost difference between restoring it and removing it is fairly insignificant (sorry, the idea to leave 10 feet of it is ridiculous). True, the tower has historical significance, but this is really about identity.

It is Silicon Valley's mountain. Thanks for your consideration and for all that you do to keep green spaces thriving.

Subject: Mt Um: Please Keep the Tower

Dear MROSD Staff,

I write to ask you to fully preserve the Radar Tower atop Mount Umunhum. Since I was a child 30 years ago, the mountain ranges around the Santa Clara Valley have been defining landmarks for me, and the observatory on Mount Hamilton and the tower on Mt Um are navigation devices for me to this day. When flying home from wherever I've travelled, I look for it on the approach to San Jose. It is a monument and a marker, and I think the mountain will greatly lose its significance without the radar tower. Even partial demolition would reduce the tower's visibility and diminish the specialness and appeal of visiting this mountain.

Mount Hamilton would not be a distinguishable landmark for so many of us without the observatory; Mount Um would likewise fade without preservation of the tower. Please keep it in its full height. If possible, it would be wonderful to go inside it and see what it was like to live and work up there -- could it be partially repurposed into a visitor's center? This I don't know, but I do ask you to fully keep the tower. Thank You.

Subject: Last Night's EIR Report and meeting

My name is Patrick Pizzo and I attended last night's meeting at the community center in Saratoga. I spoke to the issue of the EIR for the project and asked whether or not the environmental impact to Hick's Road was considered in the analysis as it is basically the only way up to Mt. Um. (the other being the road through New Almaden, albeit this would be impractical). I want to more fully express my concern.

I don't see how one can separate an EIR for the site and not consider an EIR for the way to the site. After all, this is the "Mount Umunhum Environmental Restoration and Public Access Project".... and Hicks Road is a main component to the public access factor.

I mentioned the aspect of increased vehicle traffic and the impact of increased nitrogen associated with the outflow from the Catalytic Converter on non-electric vehicles. This nitrogen increase affects the corridor along the access road, increases the growth rate of invasive, non-native plants at the expense of natives. We have a wealth of information about this effect in the area of HWY 101 and the Coyote Hills area of South San Jose and we need to apply this knowledge to assess the degree of environmental impact along Hicks and up to the summit.

I mentioned the need to increase the width of Hicks Road to provide two-way access to the summit. I asked about the environmental impact on the water supply for the City of San Jose as the Percolation Ponds of the SCVWD will certainly be affected by debris from the road work. What I didn't think about until the ride home was the presence of Mercury in that soil. As you know, New Almaden featured the second, largest productive Mercury Mine in the World, second only to the Almaden of Spain. The mining was not restricted to the New Almaden and to the Los Alimitos Creek; there most recent active Hg mine was on the Guadalupe side of the Quicksilver Park, just below the Dump on the hill, and adjacent Hicks Road. Widening Hicks road necessarily implies a deeper Guadalupe Creek to adjust to maintain the same water flow. When you shake up all those tailings and the Hg species that are inherent to the creek from natural and mining operations, it will travel down-hill and settle in the area of the Masson Dam and the Perc Ponds along Guadalupe. Is the anticipation of this and the projected cost included in the restoration and public access project? It needs to be.

Obviously there would have to be an assessment of the impact to fish (Coho Salmon and Steelhead Trout, which the County is trying to call back to the local creeks and streams; I think this is a big budget item and one that should be considered in context of the development of Mt. Um.

The project you pursue is not isolated to the summit of Mt. Umunhum. The project is the site and the access to the site. I hope that the Board is looking at the whole picture. Since the project will necessarily impact water quality to the City of San Jose and the County, I encourage a meeting to discuss this specific aspect of the project. The SCVWD, The City of San Jose and the County of Santa Clara should participate. Respectfully, Patrick P. Pizzo, San Jose, CA

I encourage you to save the radar tower on Mt. Umunuhm. It is an historic beacon which defines the mountain and will encourage people to use the recreational space. I realize your focus is open space not historic preservation, but there are times when both can help each other, and this is one of them.

Dear board members,

I strongly urge you to pursue a path that preserves the Mt. Umunhum radar tower. In particular, I personally advocate a plan that preserves the full height of the tower, even though I have read that it would be slightly more expensive than a plan that would only keep the lower portion. I feel that the historical significance of the tower, and the opportunity for future generations to consider "why did they build this tower?", make it a worthwhile historic artifact. Thank you.

Subject: Mt Umunhum - Pls Preserve Bldg

I live just below Mt. Um in Almaden Valley county club area and enjoy looking up at the five story radar tower from both my front and back yards. It's a treasured landmark I've enjoyed from many vantage points since moving to the Bay area in the early 70's. It's always great to see Mt Um "across the valley floor" when returning from a trip utilizing hwy 680 from the east bay.

I understand there may be a vote in October of this year to determine the fate of this five story structure. My hope is that this large concrete building will remain "as is" for generations to enjoy as a landmark, a testament to the cold-war era, and a sentinel standing guard over the valley. I hope the remaining buildings will be cleaned-up as soon as possible (overdue) to enable us citizens to be able to hike and enjoy the beautiful views that have been waiting for all of us to enjoy these past twenty/thirty years. Can anything be done to expedite the schedule for clean-up and restoration so we can all enjoy it before I/we begin "pushing up tulips?" Thank you for hearing my voice.

Reply to Public Session Agenda No. 1,

1--Extremely disappointed that you are going to remove homeowners who will be within park borders, I used to hike in Castle Rock, and enjoyed looking over the fences towards the private lands in and around the park. One particular apple orchard was lovely and every bit as wonderful as viewing Castle Rock park.

2--Also saddened that you are viewing this as a park, rather than what it may well possibly become -a destination. Going to Colorado Springs means going to the most visited mountain in the world.<http://www.springsgov.com/SectionIndex.aspx?SectionID=18>

With the view of the valley, it may quite possibly rival San Francisco's attractions or may be one of the more valued place to visit in Silicon Valley; therefore, planning goes beyond the shuttle. The radar tower, which by the report seems a possible foundation left like a hole in the ground at which to stare, could be a viewing tower created of concrete in the same radar tower dimensions. While some on the planning committee may state we don't have the funds for that, we the public would like the opportunity to fund raise the restoration of the existing radar tower into a viewing tower or if that be too expensive, the creation of a new viewing tower, handicapped assessable, to allow the crowds of people to see from the vantage point of a tower. While some reading this may scoff while reading this, I remind you if you look up from the valley you can see the tower, a time when it was the people's rook from which we felt secure and safe, even though during the same time period, Kennedy announced Cuban's nuclear missiles and the station on the hill watched the sky. It had the same emotion purpose as the Medieval tower as a place as defense in war. The numerous attempts to save the Tower is because in creating a park, it is not just a park. It is a place of heroic battles of past fires engulfing homes, of a supreme wilderness area, and a landmark tower, and a possible future of a destination. Please don't dismiss planning for a Yosemite on a hill. Aim high, create a memorable place.

I would like to add my support to keep the tower as a "monument" of our times past. I have lived in San Jose for 49 years. My memory is the radar dish, always turning & sending out a beep every 12 seconds. It was a constant reminder that the United States was in a very vigilant alert state. Those days, we hope, are long past. But, keeping the tower will always remind future generations of the tense past. To be able to visit the tower, go to the top & admire the view will be special for our residents & visitors.

Subject: Radar tower on Mt. Umunhum - please keep Hello.

I'm responding to the San Jose Mercury News editorial today. Please, if you can, keep the radar tower on Mt. Umunhum. Two weeks ago if you had asked me if the USA still has nuclear missiles ready to attack I'd have had to think for a few minutes. But then I visited the Air Force Museum in Dayton, Ohio and saw a collection of Minuteman Missiles up close. The active missiles are buried and out of sight, but I won't forget looking up and up and up at those huge engines of destruction in the museum! The cold war still echos, and I would hope the radar tower keeps us terrified of using a threat of war to "solve" problems.

Received the notice for the meeting on the 18th. It is common knowledge that the leadership at Mid Pen is doing everything possible to thwart leaving the tower in place. You certainly cemented that thought with the three option pictures. The one that has the tower standing is totally out of scale to the one with the partial tower. How about a more balanced approach and not try to dictate the outcome before the "common folk" have been heard.

Dear Midpen,

My father, Lt.Col. Kenneth Biddle Joyce, ended his long career at the 682nd, in 1963. It was a 'young' base then. Its' importance was not on the small end, it helped keep the US safe, the 'cold' war did not become 'hot'! It is a symbol of our continued trust in the Armed Forces, in its' ability to keep us safe. I can understand the removal of the asbestos, (that we all lived with while there), however, what harm is there to leaving the radar tower? A visible and potent reminder of our freedom? Please keep the tower, and make the grounds a teaching place. Sincerely 'a proud Air Force brat' Debbie Ann Joyce Dewey. (Part II): Thankyou Michelle for the receipt of my correspondence. I can only hope that it is of help. I grew up on that mountain, and its lost will be felt deeply... sincerely debbie dewey

We participated in one of the early public meetings about Mt. Umunhum. Stickers were placed on a large paper indicating preferences, clearly Option 3 was the choice by a landslide!

As Bay Area natives, this tower has been part of our whole lives, from the blip on the TV screen as it searched for threats, to its iconic status giving the south bay a sense of space. Our son lives in San Francisco and rode his bike to see us without knowing quite which route to take. He said first he aimed for Mt. Hamilton and as he got closer, he aimed for Mt. Umunhum. Not much else gives us a sense of direction in our busy lives here. Without the building it is just another mountain. After sunset, it's often getting dark here but the sun is still shining on the west face of the building. Beautiful. Would people tear down the Acropolis because it's old and no longer used for its original purpose? Many castles were located on mountaintops for the exact same reason as Mt. Umunhum, keeping an eye out for invaders and giving a sense of security. We support Option 3. It's worth it and will pay for itself in drawing visitors to our area. Preserve what little visible history our area has!!

Mt. Umunhum has been standing over the South Bay for a million years. 60 years ago, we went to the mountain known as Umunhum and completely changed its landscape because of a grave national security emergency. We built a village where none was, or should have been, were it not for this emergency. We flattened it, paved it, and carted tons of concrete up narrow roads to build homes, schools, stores, radar facilities, and more. The mountain and the village served us well. But its time is gone. We owe the mountain great thanks for helping us through a trying time. The best thing we can do for that mountain is return it to the way we found it. That would be a fitting tribute to all who went to the mountain before we did, all who served there during the Cold War days, and all who will come after.

I cannot believe that the Board voted to remove or not restore the Air Force Tower at Mt Umhunum? Is this correct? Because this is what the news said, and I have not read your "minutes." As you know, most everyone is concerned and wants that Tower to stay. Even Mike Honda, who grew up on the Valley Floor picking fruit, (As myself and my parents did) wants that thing to stay. Just like Moffett Field's Hangar One, you could EASILY Find people that would donate the one million to leave that tower in place. Easily.

The presence of this tower is not consistent with the mission of MROSD, which is to preserve and protect OPEN SPACE. This ghastly concrete structure has little or no historic value. Repurposing it as a "public gathering place" is an invitation to increased traffic, vandalism, and fire risk. Demolishing the structure will save money, which is better spent on purchasing and protecting our diminishing open space lands. I urge you to vote to "preserve unspoiled wilderness, wildlife habitat, watershed, viewshed, and fragile ecosystems" and REMOVE the tower.

I feel the Mt.Umunhum radar tower is a South Bay landmark with historical interest. It is not an eyesore and gives distinction to one of the highest points on these mountains. It is the most visible piece of the Almaden Air Force Station that was there for over 20 years during the Cold War era and part of the nation's defense network called NORAD. As a hiker, I can hardly wait for this area to open up with the radar station in tact as well as a Visitor Center explaining the significance of this gem. Please do not take the tower down!

Dear MPROSD Board:

Your Mt. Umunhum project is distinct from your other projects in that the mountain top will become a destination for people interested in the view and the history. They won't be hiking or horse riding or hang gliding. They will come for the views and the history alone.

Look at Ft Cronkite above the Golden Gate Bridge as an example. Views, photos, then what do people do, they go explore the Nike Missile Pads and bunkers. When there I've often heard folks verbalize the disappointment there is not more information about the ruins available. The tower at Mt Umunhum will be a similar attraction. You will find, particularly when you save the tower, there are insufficient picnic sites and restrooms currently planned for the numbers that will travel to the top of the mountain. People have always been drawn to that peak. You need to provide facilities to handle the numbers of people that will come and preserve the history that is integral to the mountain.

If these were Native American structures still atop the peak there would be no discussion of knocking them down. Why then a push to get rid of the landmark icon that is recognized from all parts of the Bay Area and is a living historical marker of the war we won .without firing a shot? Please don't be short sighted. Save the tower on Mt. Umunhum.

Subject: Mt Umunhum demolition/recycling

Hi,

I have been following the Mt. Umunhum development/restoration project with great interest. I recently purchased a hillside block of land in the New Almaden Area that is not far from Mt. Umunhum, and that has a view directly towards the radar tower. We are starting the development process to build a new house on our land.

One of our goals in the house development is to achieve a high "green" rating. One good way to achieve this is to use local/recycled materials as much as possible. As I started to think about the upcoming demolition project of the old buildings at Mt. Umunhum, I thought there might be a good opportunity here - what a great way to make the most out of a demolition, by incorporating re-use of the demolished materials in a new home, located within view of the original site.

I don't know if the demolition contractor has been selected as yet, but if you can please pass me on any details about how we might get access to recycled materials from the demolition, it would be much appreciated. Thanks and Regards, Chris

Subject: Mt. Umunhum - an alternative approach

Dear Openspace officials, unfortunately, I travel a lot and will not be able to make it to the next meeting, thus please accept this email as my input.

There has been much discussion on the topic of Mt. Umunhum recently, and especially around whether the (some think in-) famous tower up there should be razed or maintained.

Since we moved here in 2000, we have been fascinated by this mountain, especially its spectacular almost vertical drop towards Si-Valley - quite unique. We have of course never been up there, but the view must be great!

With or without tower, the mountain looks gorgeous, and seems to be an under-appreciated asset in the South-Bay.

Since several years, when it became clear that the mountain top would become accessible to the public again - thank you very much for driving this! - I have been daydreaming to build an Aerial Cable Car up to there, in fact to the tower itself. This would bring a major attraction, of which there are sadly not many (well, the Winchester House), to the South-Bay, and would attract a large number of visitors from the Bay Area, California, well, the world, visitors who would otherwise never come to San Jose/the South Bay - I know, as I have met many, many visitors and tourists who have visited California (San Francisco, Yosemite, Lake Tahoe etc.) but did not even know about San Jose's existence! This is the 3rd largest city in CA, and economically one of if not THE most vibrant part of the world!

In addition, an aerial tramway would also eliminate the need for rather costly upgrades to Mt. Umunhum Road and provide for no-impact, environmentally friendly transportation to the top, as the primary (I would suggest only regular) access would be via the tramway. In fact, since it's electric, it could and should be solar powered!

I have seen such installations in many parts of the world, they seem to be thriving even in much less populated/traveled areas. Except for ski lifts, the only system like this in California is the tramway in Palm Springs (<http://www.pstramway.com/>).

The only other one on the West Coast I know of is in Portland. So this would not only be very attractive and beneficial in many ways, it would be quite unique.

Well, I did a bit more than just dreaming: For example, I did contact the people in Palm Springs, who are very helpful.

Their operation is organized as a not-for-profit, and was financed entirely via bonds - no local funds were used.

More importantly, the system is a money maker and employs quite a few people. In addition, the CA State Park which is at the top gets $ 1 for every ticket sold; since they had about 450 k visitors, that was about $ 450k for the beleaguered CA State Park system! In this case since the 60's.

At this time, it is too early to come up with a cost estimate, but initial discussions I had with a manufacturer point to the $ 5-15 M range.

The funds that are currently earmarked to improve the road up there (which many people will be afraid of and accidents are prone to be frequent) could be eliminated and applied to the cable car. Not only would this make for an environmentally sound, zero impact means of transport to the top, the ride would be a safe, enjoyable, unique experience in itself, accessible to everyone.

Also, it is quite possible that the much discussed tower could be re-purposed as the "Bergstation", again saving cost and giving it a purpose.

Organizationally and financially, my proposal is to follow the path already "beaten" by the Palm Springs Tramway.

I hope the above got you as excited about the Mt. Umunhum Aerial Tramway as I am, and your feedback, and any support, help and guidance you may be able to give will be much appreciated. Thanks, and best regards,HP Baumeister

I ended up saying that I feel there are few people on that panel who are old enough to make such an important thing! I know they're hired to do a job or volunteered but they are too eager to destroy an important piece of history. Too many things are torn down to make way for someones idea that will make room for something better.

I HAVE BEEN FLYING 22 YEARS, AND TURKEY VULTURES ARE ABSOLUTELY NUMEROUS IN AREAS WHERE WE FLY AND HAVE FLOWN FOR 30+ YEARS.

YOU MAY BE WONDERING WHY SO MUCH INTEREST IN Mt Umunhum FROM THE HANG GLIDING COMMUNITY? THERE ARE FEW PLACES IN THE BAY AREA THAT LEND THEMSELVES TO THIS SPORT, GEOGRAPHICALLY, DEVELOPEMENTWIZE.

COMMENTS:

Just heard about Hanggliders this evening. Hanggliders! Where do they take off and land? What about emergencies? Do they sign waivers or pay? Should I don't want taxpayer money to support rescue and such. Bad idea.

COMMENTS:

Hicko road ... EIR consider the required improvements? Impact on watershed? Impact on Native plants? Ammonia? More nitrogen and Argemone introduced plants and grasses will displace natives (CNP). How wide will this road have to be? What happens in fire emergency? do Emergency vehicles go up, or do Evacuation vehicles come down? One way entry/access and egress? UH!

Jordan Makower	Sunnyvale	CA	94085	United States	6/12/2012	The tower reminds me of the people stationed there to protect the US from attack. It is an already-built monument!
Paul McWilliams	San Jose	CA	95138	United States	6/12/2012	The radar tower is a part of history, a "castle" of the cold war. It has fascinated me from the first day that I arrived in Silicon Valley. I would be disappointed to see it torn down. Please save the tower!
William Foley	Brighton	MA	2135	United States	6/12/2012	The "Cube" is a landmark of local history that deserves to keep its place of prominence - it's also a ready-made viewing platform and interpretive center for the mountaintop. Keep the tower!
Bill Conway	Billings	MT	59102	United States	6/13/2012	I am a veteran of The Almaden AFS. W lived on the mountain from 1966 to 1968. The service performed by the veterans of AAFS need to be remembered and honored. Bill Conway
Ron Dootson				United States	6/13/2012	This radar tower is history; a monument to the Cold War. If we don't work together to save the few that are left, we'll wake up one morning wondering what happened.
Darlene White	Fairfield	CA	94534	United States	6/13/2012	It's a memory from my childhood growing up in Almaden.
Martin Nielson	SE. Albuquerque	NM	85282	United States	6/13/2012	The Almaden AFS AN/FPS-24 tower is one of the few (maybe only) mountaintop tower remaining in existence. It should be preserved as a monument to those of us that served to defend the United States and Canada from attack during the cold war. I fondly remember my service in the USAF Air Defense Command in California in the 1950-1960's and would be disappointed to see this land mark destroyed as was done at Mt Hebo, Oregon.
Jim Ault	MESA	AZ	85205	United States	6/13/2012	I am a veteran of Almaden AFS and worked in the radar tower.
George Royer	Los Gatos	CA	95032-3571	United States	6/13/2012	The tower is a reminder of how we need to be prepared. I often saw the radar working and had to design an IBM product to avoid interference from the radar sweep.

Tim Peters	Miami	FL	33157	United States	6/13/2012	As a former Air Force Radar Operator and Cold War veteren I feel that facilities such as this need to be retained as a reminder of what was and what still could be.
Bob Watts	Morgan Hill	CA	95038	United States	6/13/2012	The Almaden AFS radar tower is a constant reminder to me that "Freedom Isn't Cheap". To demolish the tower means the 27 months, of my youth, I spent manning that radar was "Thanks but no thanks".
Gail Klein	Stanford	CA	94305	United States	6/13/2012	The radar tower did its job. It's probably the best symbol up there or even in the Bay Area of a time we can hardly imagine, when our parents/grandparent's defended the country, just 75 years ago.
Wayne Jueal	San Jose	CA	95130	United States	6/13/2012	The tower is a reminder of growing up here in the valley. It is a significant piece of our history and should be saved for future generations to enjoy.
Charles Jeronimo	Livermore	CA	94550-4224	United States	6/13/2012	I served there for 18 months and appreciated the beauty of that mountain.
Bruce Mann	Corning	CA	96021	United States	6/13/2012	I moved to San Jose in 1964 when stationed at Almaden AFS. I was transfered in 1966, but moved back in 1967. I lived there untill I retired in 2010. The tower was always the landmark that I saw that meant I was "home". It has always been an attraction to the people living in the valley.
Penelope Cole	Santa Clara	CA	95051	United States	6/13/2012	It's part of our history and should be preserved, like Hangar One at Moffett Field. I retired from the Air Force and served at Moffett Field. Our military history should be preserved, lest we forget how to fight for freedom.
Robert Zenorini	Demarest	NJ	7627	United States	6/13/2012	The radar tower is a monument to the successful completion of the cold war. Future generations need to know the danger this country was exposed to and how we were protected from enemy attack.
Lisa Penney	Belmont	CA	94002	United States	6/13/2012	Not only is this building recognized as a local landmark, but is it also an important piece of american history.

Kent Pillatsch	Wentzville	MO	63385	United States	6/13/2012	Our "Cold War History" needs to be preserved. Not too many sites have been saved for future generations. You should be proud to have these landmarks left and should be preserved. You could open them as a local museum and make it a tourist attraction. I am sure you would find volunteers to operate a venture like that.
Stephen Weatherly	Wellesley Island	NY	13640	United States	6/13/2012	During the Cold War I was stationed at Mt Hebo AFS, OR. We had the same radar and a similar radar tower of the same size on a 3154 ft tall mountain. The radar station at Mt Hebo and its' radar tower has been torn down and all that is left is a plaque less than 2 ft square. Do I have regret - absolutely!
Stephen Weatherly	Wellesley Island	NY	13640	United States	6/13/2012	During the Cold War I was stationed at Mt Hebo AFS, OR. We had the same radar and a similar tower of the same size on a 3154 ft mountain. It was torn down and nothing is left of the old radar station on Mt Hebo. Do I have regret - absolutely!
Richard Welsh	Sacramento	CA	95821	United States	6/13/2012	Being both born and raised in San Jose and being stationed there in the USAF it is part of the valley history
Edward Hobbs	TOLEDO	OH	43615	United States	6/13/2012	I WAS STATIONED THERE FOR 4 YEARS IN THE EARLY SIXTIES.
Gary Coffland	Sonoma	CA	95476	United States	6/13/2012	I was stationed at Almaden AFS from 1970 - 71. Upon my discharge from active service in 1972 I worked in the Silicon Valley for various electronic firms and in support of the defense industry in 'fighting' the cold war. Almaden AFS wa a constant VISUAL reminder of why we were doing our jobs. Today it serves as a GREAT reminder of that time period AND is proof that the vigilance we provided prevented an unthinkable third world war. Please keep an important piece of history alive for our future generations.
David Casteel	Dallas	TX	75243	United States	6/13/2012	This is an historic building--there were very few of them built and most have already been destroyed.
John Pundsack	Midwest City	OK	73130	United States	6/14/2012	Native of San Jose, served in radar career field in USAF. Can see tower from parent's front yard. Small part of history. Should be a reminder to all the times of the past.
Ojigalak Kanaw	Campbell	CA	95011	United States	6/14/2012	Save the tower!
Mark Johnson	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	6/14/2012	It's historically significant

SSgt. Mark Arnett	Albuquerque	NM	87120	United States	6/14/2012	I never worked on or received any training on the FPS-24 but I can't believe how many sites there used to be but how few are left. If any can be saved, it will be a plus for future generations to see what we went through in our day. I know some day we will have to fight to preserve the FPS-66 out on the mesa. Preserve our history!
Kenneth Wilson	Panama City	FL	32405-3909	United States	6/14/2012	to retain the FPS-24 tower as a memorial to the men and women who served our country, protecting them during the "Cold War". Yes, I too served there '69-'72
GARY SCHRECK	OKEECHOBEE	FL	34973-244	United States	6/14/2012	The radar tower is a historical landmark. It was a major part of our defense during my childhood. The Santa Clara Valley will never be the same if the building is torn down. P.S. Isn't there some way that it can be put to use - maybe as a museum?
Curtis Hoppins	Los Gatos	CA	95032	United States	6/14/2012	It has been a fixture of our skyline for decades and represents many things to many people. It's part of our history and must be saved.
Marjory Zenorini	Demarest	NJ	7627	United States	6/14/2012	Please have a little regard for the history that took place and the men who served there. Thanks MZ
Carissa Hobbs	San Jose	CA	95117	United States	6/14/2012	I strongly support keeping the radar tower that stands on top of Mount Umunhum. My father is a veteran who was stationed at Almeden Airforce Station. Our whole family is very proud of the work that he did there and extremely interested in the history that took place on this beautiful location. I think it is very important that we don't forget what happened here and keeping the radar tower standing tall will make sure to keep it prominent in our minds.
Ernest Hall	Salinas	CA	93907	United States	6/14/2012	Was stationed there from 1976 - 1978.
Linna Harnack	Sunnyvale	CA	94086	United States	6/15/2012	For its historic significance and to honor/remember the people who worked or served there.
Raymond Buda	West Union	OH	45693	United States	6/15/2012	I was never stationed at a fixed radar site in the states but I was stationed at several in PACAF. These old sites are part of our history from the Cold War years and should be preserved for future generations.

Jane Schlager	Sunnyvale	CA	94087	United States	6/15/2012	It is such an important part of our history. The tower gives us a chance to tell that story when folks ask about it when seeing it. I was privileged to celebrated and "remarry" a couple who met and married there 50 years ago at a reunion. Important to a lot of folks.
Mark Meador	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	6/16/2012	The "Cube" is a memorial... a reminder to be vigilant in the defense of our freedoms. It should stand!
Rob Adams	Campbell	CA	95008	United States	6/16/2012	This is a historic landmark for those of us in the south valley! Do not destroy this tower!
Gary Falkenberg	Jersey Village	TX	77040	United States	6/17/2012	I was stationed at the 774 AC&W in Madera, Ca. and went TDY to Almaden for one week, Sept 21, 1964. The day of my first wedding anny. What a view from the top.
Arlene Stiff	Bend	OR	97701	United States	6/17/2012	It's historical. Once it's gone it's too late.
John Hawthorne	Endicott	NY	13760	United States	6/18/2012	This is one of only a few remaining symbols of the "Cold War" that thanks to the USAF never went "Hot".
Karla Nubling	Santa Clara	CA	95051	United States	6/18/2012	Historical Significance and Landmark
Connie Rogers	Gilroy	CA	95020	United States	6/18/2012	The radar tower defines Mt. Umunhum and will act as a beacon to recreational users. You don't have to permit access to the tower, just leave it in place. History and Open Space are overlapping here.
Julie Priest	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	6/18/2012	It's a local landmark!
Ed Jaworski	Mesquite	NV	589027	United States	6/18/2012	This South Bay icon is a bit of USAF history and should not be destroyed.
Francis (Frank) Welsh	Louisville	KY	40245	United States	6/19/2012	I served in the 682nd Radar Sqdn., USAF from 8/65 to 2/67. Our work was valuable, and cherish all memories - including working in radar maintenance in the big FPS-24 building. It's a landmark, and I hope it can be spared and preserved for ages to come.
Stephen Hornung	Reynoldsburg	OH	43068	United States	6/19/2012	I am an Air Force Vet who has served at similar radar stations, though not this particular one. I strongly believe that these locations should be preserved and saved as a historical monument for those that served there and as a relic of the Cold War.
Barry Thornbury	Gurnee	IL	60031	United States	6/19/2012	As a veteran of the USAF, and previous ACW radar technician, I feel we need to preserve these monuments to the men and women who maintained and operated these sentinels of the Cold War. May mankind never forget how close the doomsday clock was to striking midnight.

I even got a tour when it was operational. Limited, to say the least. There were some areas that required security clearance.
joyce priest	Fort Worth	TX	76137	United States	6/20/2012	A landmark from childhood. I hadn't been home in 15 years when i took my husband around Los Gatos & San Jose. I made a point of looking for it to show him & talk about it.

We loved it and all our relatives and friends that came to visit loved it too.

Jonathan Carr	Tracy	CA	95376	United States	6/22/2012	The radar tower structure should not only be saved, but a replacement radar dish or facsimile thereof should be placed atop the building and an interpretive center be built in or nearby the tower. This is an important piece of American history. Today's children and young adults should learn about and understand the gravity of the Cold War and how it affected daily life even in suburbia.
Harry Pottol	Sunnyvale	CA	94087	United States	6/22/2012	The Almaden AN/FPS-24 tower is one of the few remaining relics of the network of Air Defense Command facilities from the cold war days. This reminder should be preserved.

SUE CONTRERAS	SANTA CLARA	CA	95051	United States	6/24/2012	Please save the Mt Um RADAR tower. It is an important historical and locational landmark for the South Bay region. Without the tower, the peak will just be another "lump" in a series of mountain lumps (from the valley ground-view perspective). On a field trip in the '70s, I stood at the base of that tower as a child. I still remember the awesome feeling of standing there looking up at the sky with the huge tower behind me. Most people don't realize how big the tower is. The tower has stood watch over the Valley of Hearts Delight for many years. Don't let the tower go the way of the orchards it once protected.
john egan	san jose	CA	95120	United States	6/24/2012	When coming back to San Jose, when I see the tower, a peace comes over me to say "I'm now home".
Anthony Bulygo	Bakersfield	CA	93314	United States	6/24/2012	Without a past, we have no future. Preservation of the past reminds us how much better off we are today. The early warning radar site was a part of our defense system and part of our security of life. To restore this site to its' original splendor is admirable, but is not well thought out. Remember, once it is gone, it is gone forever. Any thoughts of a teardown of the tower are unconscionalbe.
Geoff Alexander	San Jose	CA	95112	United States	6/24/2012	This wonderful landmark bookends Lick Observatory and is an important - if poignant - reminder of this valley's importance to the history of 20th century technology.
David Wooten	Sheridan	WY	82801	United States	6/24/2012	Used to live there. It's an icon and it should stay!
Joan Brodovsky	San Jose	CA	95126	United States	6/24/2012	It is about our history, and it is visible from all over the Santa Clara Valley. It's bad enough to see Hangar One at Moffet Field go down. We don't need to continue this destruction.
john seyfarth	los altos	CA	94022	United States	6/24/2012	Important to save cultural history as well as natural history. This is a unique landmark seen all around the South Bay! And I suspect that the additional attraction of the radar tower will bring out even more hikers and bikers to see this special destination!
Ken Richardson	San Jose	CA	95124-3114	United States	6/24/2012	I have gazed upon the radar station every day for the last 54 years. It is a landmark and a piece of history. Tearing down the tower would serve no purpose other than appease a vocal idealogical group.

Tom Kearney	San Jose	CA	95118	United States	6/24/2012	I have live here for 37 years and the radar tower is a part of the mountain. It also is history.
Charles Benjamin	Campbell	CA	95008	United States	6/25/2012	The Mt Umunhum Tower reflects a characteristic of our world outlook and our defense policy during nearly 50 years of the 20th Century. We are too quick to erase monuments that remind us of where we have been.
Pamela Rebillot	San Jose	CA	95126	United States	6/25/2012	It's a valley landmark that can be seen for miles & should be preserved.
Carol Frost	san Jose	CA	95126	United States	6/25/2012	This is part of our history and it is a tangible reminder. To demolish it would be a travesty to our collective memory.
susan saso	san Jose	CA	95125	United States	6/25/2012	What if they had decided to tear down the pyramids?
Debbie Dewey	Medina	OH	44246-886	United States	6/25/2012	This was my father's last command before retiring in 1963. It was a place many memories were made. It has watched over the coast of California for 55 years. Is is a monument that should stand for many years to come.
Frank Sweeney	San Jose	CA	95123	United States	6/25/2012	The tower has been up there longer than 75 percent of the residents of this county have been alive. It is a landmark. Without it, most people couldn't tell you which bump on the Santa Cruz Mountains ridgeline is Mt. U. People may disagree on aesthetics, on the tower's history and so forth. But those are no reasons to tear it down.
S Joyce	aurora	CO	80015	United States	6/26/2012	I lived there between 1961-1963. Almaden AFS was my father's last active duty command. He retired in Jan 1963 as Almaden's Commander. Looking at the state and disrepair of the facility, it would have been nice to restore the old blockhouse to it's prior look. Once the asbestos remediation is complete, a good coat of paint and a memorial are warranted.
Kristi Berryessa	San Jose	CA	95123	United States	6/26/2012	I love this historic place.
Paul Liebenberg			95023	United States	6/26/2012	The "Cube" is a landmark; it's a piece of history. I liken it to an abandoned castle; if it can't be made safe for occupancy or use as a viewing platform, then it should be allowed to naturally deteriorate---however many millennia that may take. Don't waste public funds tearing it down.
Dwight Denton	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	6/26/2012	I am 60 years old and have lived here all of my life. I remember this tower vividly from when I was a child.

Anthony Correia	Morgan Hill	CA	95037	United States	6/26/2012	The tower, not a representation, should remain in place. Growing up in the South Bay and seeing the tower has always been a constant that has drawn me and a lot of others. It is a part of our Nation's and our local history that is part of a much more significant story. It should remain so generations can see an important reminder of the Cold War.
Brett Kelley	San Jose	CA	95136	United States	6/26/2012	I have lived my entire life in the San Jose bay area with this iconic landmark "in my backyard". At one point after World War II, my grandfather was stationed there, so it is semi-sentimental in that aspect as well. Losing this landmark would be like missing a compass on a ship, as it is a visual reference point to one's whereabouts while in the area.
Michael Cook	Milpitas	CA	95035	United States	6/26/2012	It's an iconic landmark and if destroyed would be the first one in the country to be demolished.
Dean Wilhelm	Sausalito	CA	96966-3064	United States	6/26/2012	In 1970 I was Stationed there.
Jack Smith	Morro Bay	CA	93442	United States	6/26/2012	I lived on the mountain top as a teenager in the early 70s while my father was serving as the radar station's medic. The tower should be preserved as monument to the men and women who served their country during the Cold War.

Nathalie Mosbach	Saratoga	CA	95070	United States	6/26/2012	I love the tower. It needs to stay!
David Close	San Jose	CA	95123	United States	6/26/2012	It is a very striking part of the ridgeline. I would be very sad to see it go away. It is a landmark I see and look for every day.
Steven Rudd	Hampton	VA	23669	United States	6/26/2012	Not only is the tower an important historical artifact of the war that never went hot, it's an iconic landmark
Michael Carter	Lancaster	PA	17603	United States	6/26/2012	I am a veteran of the Cold War stationed at Almaden during the excavation and concrete pouring for the FPS-24 tower.
Joyce Seal	Fort Walton Beach	FL	32547	United States	6/26/2012	I lived on Mount Umunhum from May 1973 to Jan 1977 and worked in the tower as the Chief of Maintenance's secretary from Sept 1975 to Jan 1977. This is a historical reminder of Cold War and it was an effective deterrent/shield for our country--the United States of America.

Shannon McElyea	Saratoga	CA	95070	United States	6/26/2012	I LOVE to see the tower on the mountain. I owned a home with a view from SF to Mtn. Umunhum and enjoyed the view. It's a fun and informative landmark. I am looking forward to visiting it and hiking. I also think the history fascinating, as well as important and critical for future generations to learn about.
Phyllis Willis	Dothan	AL	36305	United States	6/26/2012	I lived on the mountain as a child and have many fond memories of growing up there. The tower would remind people that an entire community existed on top of the mountain at one time.
Gene McManus	Baltimore	OH	43105	United States	6/26/2012	This is an important landmark and piece of Cold War history.
Mary Denney	Los Gatos	CA	95030	United States	6/26/2012	It has historical value
Dan Coughlin	Sumter	SC	29154	United States	6/26/2012	Tangible bits of history must be preserved, especially when they present no harm or threat to the community. The tower may attract more visitors than the site without it. Folks in the valley will notice it and, perhaps, go on up to see it. Besides, I spent 3 years working in the building.

Sandi Salvo	Phoenix	AZ	85048	United States	6/26/2012	Like the Titan Missile Museum in Arizona, this is a part of history that younger generations should learn about. Many don't know about or understand the cold war. Without knowledge, we are destined to repeat history!!

Paul Twombly	Saratoga	CA	95070	United States	6/26/2012	It's an important reminder of the Cold War Era for the region and the country. A time we and our children should never forget because of how close we came several times to ending all life on the earth as we know it. (ie: The Cuban Missile Crisis). Tearing it down would be akin to tearing down Hanger One at Moffet Field.

Russ Lucas	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/3/2012	I visited this center when I was an Explorer Scout years ago, and it definitely has a long history that is important not only as a lookout in the Cold War, but also as local landmark just above the Almaden Valley. It is as much a part of our landscape as the towers on Loma Prieta, or the telescopes on Mt. Hamilton! Let's preserve our local historical landmark and the people who spent time working there for our benefit! It simply BELONGS on the mountain top as a part of our area!

Edward Doherty	Sunnyvale	CA	94086	United States	7/6/2012	The Tower on this Mountain stands as a reminder that a "War" can be fought without death and destruction. The Cold War is the epitome of how conflict's should be handled. This is what we and the rest of the world beg for, yet almost no monuments or any real appreciation is shown for anything or anyone that participated in it. Here you have a Monument already standing strong and tall and we are debating on what it will look like, after it's torn down. So the message to the new volunteers of our military, for the media and all the people that sound off when a war erupts answer me this. Should we fight a "War" with negotiations, technology and brains or bombs and bullets? If this Tower was never there or if we didn't perform our duties and the Cold War turned Hot, there may never have been anyone here to walk on those paths, to breath the fresh air or to take in the precious views from up there, or anywhere else. With a war fought like the Cold War and ending the way the Cold War ended we all have to be reminded the real "Memorial" saved by the people working at that Tower is this planet and all life on this planet. The fact is, every person that goes up there to hike or take in a big breath of fresh air and look out over the ocean or the city lights below should first walk over and give that Tower a big kiss and thank it and thank
Monica Pound	Santa Clara	CA	95050	United States	7/6/2012	Grew up with this tower and still see it everyday gary miskimon	San Jose	CA	95125	United States	7/6/2012	A great counterpoint between the Cold War needs of the US and the country it was intended to protect. That threat was real and its great to be able to see it and learn from it in the future, after the site is re-opened to the public. The Bay Area has already eliminated most of its proud military history, why one more piece that is so visible?
Don Nordloff	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/6/2012	A great icon of the valley and a worthy icon of our Cold War warriors.
Patrick Wicker	Danville	CA		United States	7/6/2012	The tower MUST be saved! It is a landmark, and a tribute to all that served during the cold war!

John Georges	Santa Clara	CA	95051	United States	7/7/2012	This RADAR tower is as much a piece of history of the Santa Clara valley as any historic building, or highway, that are regularly preserved for posterity. Contrary to tearing the building down, it should be restored and turned into a Cold War museum.
Nancy Williams	Los Altos	CA	94022	United States	7/7/2012	Tearing down this tower would be a travesty. The site is not just wilderness in need of restoration. It also represents crucial history that should not be forgotten. I advocate that the tower be preserved and a museum or placards tell the story of what went on here during World War II
Jeff Gordon			95120	United States	7/8/2012	I agree that saving the tower is important for its historical significance, but also I want it preserved because I truly enjoy looking at it and photographing it. It annoys me that some people call it "ugly." It's not an "eyesore," it's an ICON and as others have said, an important landmark. I like watching it from different angles and distances, in different lighting and weather. I would definitely miss seeing it if it were removed. I will be at the meeting 7/18 to voice my support. Thank you for creating this petition.

Josie Supencheck	San Jose	CA	95136	United States	7/10/2012	We need to save the tower in honor of our Veterans. Even more of the building should be saved. It is San Jose history. Thank you.

suzanne crawford	santa clara	CA	95050	United States	7/11/2012	It is important to retain military structures for future generations to visit and study ; just as today we visit places like Fort Laramie, Fort Sumpter, and Fort Mc Henry. The radar tower symbolizes an important aspect of our defense (particularly for the Bay Area) during the cold war. It should NOT be torn down.
Michael Hertzner	Morgan Hill	CA	95037	United States	7/11/2012	I grew up in Almaden Valley and the tower is iconic to the area. Why spend the money tearing it down? Is it gonna fall and hit something? Didn't think so.

Elaine Durand	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/13/2012	My father was stationed at the Radar Station in 1957-1958. It has been a part of the south valleyshistory for so many years. It would be heartless to tear it down. Using the legends of the Native Americans as an excuse to tear down the tower is the wrong move. What about the memories of the thousands of men and women who have served and continue to serve our country. What about their heritage?
Coralie Elliott	Victoria		V9A1V4	Canada	7/13/2012	Do preserve the memory of the people of he US Air Force who once lived and worked on the mountain --I once lived on the mountain as a US Air Force dependent and my husband worked at the radar tower.

Paul Smith	Wichita	KS	67201	United States	7/14/2012	This is not only a piece of history, it has commercial potential. Also, according to numerous articles, the majority of locals want it saved. The voice of the people should be heard.
Eric Richards	Loveland	CO	80537	United States	7/14/2012	This artefact is part of 20th century history. So many things were destroyed in their time as obsolete that now would be priceless. History will be poorer without Cold War examples like this.

gary pittebger	Oceano	CA	93445	United States	7/14/2012	I was a member of the 682d from Jan 74 till April 75. I lived and worked on the second floor of the cube as a height finder tech. I have many memories of living there and want all to know that the tower represents an ongoing monument to the airmen that served our country. While other soldiers fought with guns and knives, we fought with voltmeters, oscilloscopes, and technical knowledge. While americans slept in their beds, an Almaden USAF soldier stood vigil watching over them. Only the best technically oriented soldiers were stationed at Almaden. I do not feel that the beauty of nature at the site would conflict with the strength and solace of a building that preserved peace. Preserving our monument will let our grandchildren understand that the people that lived inside of it cared about them. Thank you Gary Pittenger

Steven Rudd	Hampton	VA	23669	United States	7/16/2012	Almaden AFS was my first duty station in the Air Force in 1965. The mission at Almaden was to ensure that if an enemy attempted to attack there would be sufficient warning to launch interceptors to shoot down the bombers before they could complete their mission. Failing that, it was to ensure the citizens would have sufficient warning to seek shelter. In order to accomplish that mission, the personnel assigned to Almaden worked 24x7, 365 days a year. The tower is the last reminder of that important mission and the men and women who dedicated their lives to keeping America safe during uncertain times - it. deserves to be preserved.

Throughout that period, The Western Electric Company of The Bell System was contracted by Pacific Telephone to provide installation and update services to the Almaden Air Force Station telecom system. Almaden AFS was a self-contained military facility. Besides the incredible views, the mountain-top station provided complete housing and recreational facilities for Air Force personnel and their families assigned there. Children of dependents were bussed to local schools on daily round-trip schedules, down the hill in the morning, then back up the hill in the afternoon. Lynn Hsu	San Jose	CA	95126	United States	7/17/2012	The tower is how everybody recognizes the Mountain. It's part of the history, and part of the visual image in our collective consciousness. Why tear it down?
James Holmes	San Jose	CA	95125	United States	7/17/2012	I grew up going to school in Almaden Valley attending both Bret Harte and Leland (Class of 99). The Umumhum Tower is the one standout landmark in Almaden and you can't get rid of it!! It holds a mythic significance to me, akin to Neuschwanstein castle in Bavaria, Germany, although more minimal and plain in scope. Tell me there is not something mysterious and alluring as you approach the Almaden Valley and see a cubical building on a mountain. It's a breath of fresh air in an area of San Jose that has little personality and distinction in terms of geography (a few mercury mines and abandoned barns being the exception). Almaden is pleasant but it needs a little bit of character and spontaneity to keep it an attractive place to live. Preserving the Radar Tower Cube does this, and commemorates it's unique and overlooked role in the Cold War. What other landmark does Almaden really have?

Linda Montgomery	San Jose	CA	95117	United States	7/17/2012	My family has been in this area since before California was a state. The radar tower on top of Mt. Umunhum is a familiar landmark I will personally miss if it is torn down. The stories about what it was and rumors of a missile silo at the top of Mt. Umunhum along side the radar tower were thrilling to me as a young child, during the times of red alert and yellow alert drills. It is a part of our local history. I don't care if there are other towers much like it in other places, this is OUR landmark just as much as Lick Observatory and Hangar One at NASA/Ames are. Please leave it there. I'd love to tour it and see the old IBM computing equipment inside. You could charge for tours.

Jean Mundell	Los Gatos	CA	95032-7688	United States	7/17/2012	To valley residents, the tower is an integral part of Mt. Umhumnum. I am a pacifist, who also values history. It is wrong to deny its place in the history of our valley, our nation, and the world. To many, it has served as a landmark that assured us that our nation was maintaining defensive vigilance. Edward Atlas	San Jose	CA	95128	United States	7/18/2012	The tower is a reminder of the era when an attack by the Soviet Union was a possibility and a threat that we all lived under. The Early Warning system provided protection and a deterrent for everybody living on the West Coast, including the decedents of the Ohlone. Why do we assume that if they were able to speak the original Ohlone people would want to remove the tower? They might recognize it's symbolism and say to leave it in place.
Rod Robertson	san jose	CA	95118	United States	7/18/2012	As a San Jose native, the tower is part of my childhood. An imposing landmark to designate the mountain range to the South. John Kelly	Albuquerque	NM	87120	United States	7/18/2012	Col. Richard D. Kelly, my father, retired as Electronics Officer at Almaden AFS. He'd served our country for 32 years, beginning before WWII. My sister and I are "Air Force Brats." We were reassigned, like fellow brats, with our mother and father almost every year. That wasn't a sacrifice for us as children, was a sacrifice by our mother (like other USAF wives), but it did forge a respect for what USAF members in particular gave our country...whether we supported political policy or not. Almaden AFS was a crowning assignment for our father. I want to see his contribution, and that of his fellows, honored by keeping the Tower in perpetuity.
Thomas Kussell	San Jose	CA	95118	United States	7/18/2012	To paraphrase George Orwell: 'Good people can sleep at night because rough men stand guard.' The tower is our old sentinel. Let him stay! Umunhum and its iconic tower. It is unique and significant to our history and to the Almaden Valley. It must not be destroyed.
Mark Montano	Los Gatos	CA	95032	United States	7/18/2012	Save the tower because IT IS a historical landmark that marks the days of the cold war. The Airforce put it up to help guard our coast from an enemy attack. It is one of the most prominante landmarks in Santa Clara County and relied on by many residents as site marker. Nothing put in it's place could add more than the tower.

Jose Batto	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	This radar tower is a historical landmark in Santa Clara Valley and must be preserved.
Barbara Davis				United States	7/18/2012	The radar tower is part of our history. I grew up in San Jose, and whenever we returned from a trip, when we spotted the tower we knew we were close to home. I would be sad to see it torn down.
Susan Barkan	Mountain View	CA	94043	United States	7/18/2012	As a life-long local hiker, I see Mt. Umunhum from many different angles. Without the distinctive cube, it's hard to identify. I don't care whether the structure is historic or not; it's a landmark and should be retained. A lookout post would be a lovely use for it.
Louise Lincoln	Los Gatos	CA	95032	United States	7/18/2012	To help save this part of history of our valley and the freedom we worked for during the cold War era.
Arley DeLaRoche'	San Jose	CA	95128	United States	7/18/2012	I understand that asbestos is a problem, but recent news updates have revealed that there have been measures taken to rid the site of the asbestos, thereby making it SAFE to visit. Why tear down a huge part of our history when you can preserve it as a reminder that there was once a flourishing neighborhood on that military base? I'm sure that the people who grew up and lived on the site would be outraged if they knew what was happening to their former homes!
Florence Cappelloni	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	It is a significant part of the hills surrounding the Santa Clara Valley. We have lived in the Almaden area for over 33 years and, wherever we are in the valley, we always look for the Mt. Umumhum radar tower.
Christine Honda	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	Saving the tower and finding a use for it has to be more cost effective -- and better for San Jose
Dennis Cannataro	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	I live in Almaden and we all consider this tower to be a valuable landmark and reminder of the history of the Silicon Valley.

Galen Stallings	Salinas	CA	93906	United States	7/18/2012	I lived in the Santa Clara Valley for 40 years and I always looked for the tower and I would know where I was. Even now, when I come to San Jose, I look for the tower. I am also a Vietnam Veteran, and wholeheartedly believe Veterans service and sacrifice should always be honored any time possible. Most civilians have very little idea of what it is like serving in any branch of the military. Generally, it is not an easy life. This service needs to be honored. Galen Stallings
Ryan Smith	San Jose	CA	95138	United States	7/18/2012	How many other instances do we have in San Jose, or the Bay Area as a whole for that matter, where we can directly point to our involvement in the Cold War? It's our monument to a by-gone era in American History. You can stand at almost any point in the south bay and see the tower on Mt. Umunhum. What needs to happen is to make it a site much like Mt. Hamilton Observatory. Don't bury our rich history, if we can preserve it in a safe manner for the people and the environment.
Daniel Hendrix				United States	7/18/2012	That tower is a landmark and has been here as long as I have been in this valley. As a kid growing up here, I remember listening to the radio and hearing the faint low pitch hum every several seconds letting me know it's still working to protect us. There is no viable reason to remove it. If that happens, then Mt. Umunhum becomes just another mountain peak. So, why not remove the Lick Observatories while you're at it! Get real!
robbie Lamons	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	It is so great to be able to have the tower to figure out where I am. It also is great to stand below the tower and hear the echo bouncing off it.
Karen Stayrook	San Jose	CA	95135	United States	7/18/2012	The tower should remain forever! As I read in the MercuryNews Editorial section, put a huge American flag on the building with a bright light to shine at night. We couldn't be more proud of those that served in the military on that mountain and around the world!
Rob Davis	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	Grew up looking at it. It's an important part of the cold war history that needs to be preserved.

Ann Mayers	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	I want the tower to be saved in its entirety, not just partially. It DOES have historical significance, and it is a reminder that is visible to us on a daily basis of how important our country is to us.
Kathryn Vortmann	Sunnyvale	CA	94086	United States	7/18/2012	Save the radar tower!
Patricia Stackhouse	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/18/2012	I was born and raised in San Jose, and can't imagine looking up at that mountain without the radar tower. I even miss not seeing the radar antenna revolving.
Eugene Greenwood	San Jose	CA	95118	United States	7/18/2012	I served for 3 years at the Cambria Air Force Station which was a Radar Station identical to the one on Mt. Umunhum. It should be preserved as a Cold War Icon.
Mark Clayton	Menlo Park	CA	94025	United States	7/18/2012	San Jose and the (extended) Santa Clara Vallet have previous few distinctive landmarks. As they say, there's no "there" there. Removing this edifice will add to that malaise, IMO. I grew up in San Jose. Lived there for 40 years. I took pride in the fact that the Tower was "ours." Leave it be. Please.
Denny Brisbin	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	I was born and raised in San Jose and as long as I can remember the tower has stood as a landmark that should stay for future generations should appreciate the way our country was protected when the tower was in full operation.
Robert Wright	San Jose	CA	95112	United States	7/18/2012	I grew up with the cube and have many, many fond memories of it.
Caryl Swinyard	San Jose	CA	95135	United States	7/18/2012	Lived in Valley for so many years and that tower is a landmark from all over. Maybe sentimental, but still, part of our history.
Ted Earle	San Jose	CA	95136	United States	7/18/2012	I grew up in San Jose. I always felt safer as a child knowing that the spinning radar on top of Mt. Umunhum was protecting us from potential threats. It would be a shame to see it go off the top of the mountain.
William Hough	San Jose	CA	95112	United States	7/18/2012	This historic structure is a valuable relic of Silicon Valley's history and needs to be preserved.
James Gatenby	San Jose	CA	95111	United States	7/18/2012	This tower is as much a landmark as the mountain beneath it. Think how nondescript Mt. Um will look without it?

Terry Burleson	san jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	My husband and I can see it from our front yard-it's very close. We have lived in Almaden for 42 yrs and have seen it in different atmospheres - with clouds hugging it, sun bathing it, big moon and stars shining on it, rainbows over it, rain- storms surrounding it and even snow powdering it. It is always awe-inspiring and when we are coming back from out of town- its our 'beacon' that we are almost home. As a matter of fact, I would like to see some kind of light on top of it, like some of the big city buildings have, that would make it even more outstanding. I think we should clean it up, admire it, respect it. I say Keep It!
Bruce Brennan	San Jose	CA	95117	United States	7/18/2012	It's been there my whole life. It should at least stay there till I'm gone.
Doug Tissier	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/18/2012	We actually have told our children to look for Mt. Umunhum as a sign of getting close to home.
Holly Hartman	San Jose	CA	95112	United States	7/18/2012	I remember touring the facility and seeing the computers bigger than our truck! What a sight. They were covered, of course, because the information was so sensitive ;-) Plus, I was sad when they removed the radar itself. I liked seeing it up there. Removing the tower means we become even more generic as a place. Leaving the tower (adding a radar replica?) gives our valley a unique look.
Lester Spring				United States	7/18/2012	Once history is destroyed, that's it. We should preserve some things for the next generation to observe and understand.
carl held	cupertino	CA	95014	United States	7/18/2012	I did software development on the SAGE system in the mid-sixties. We did many simulations using Mt. Ununum. Keep It. It's important.
Colleen Friesen				United States	7/18/2012	I've lived most of my life here in San Jose. (Shoot - I still remember cherry orchards around my parent's house!) I've seen and admired the Mt. Umunhum tower all that time. It's a highly visible local landmark. that means I'm home in San Jose and all is right with the world. How can anyone even think of tearing it down?

Steven Frehe	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/18/2012	Without the tower Mt. Umunhum becomes another anonymous mountain and we lose prominent reminder of history. I don't think keeping it disrespects the Ohlone history of the mountain but instead serves as a segue to that part of the mountain's past. For me, wanting to know more about the tower and AFB is how I came to know of what came before. I live in view of tower and it's part of my daily ritual to look toward it every day and often ride up to the gate on Mt. Umhunhum Road to see it closer. I understand retaining the tower is not exactly in alignment with the district's mission but the public is their constituency and the public is speaking to keep it. Basim Jaber: Thank you so much for all your work in making the public aware of AFB and its history!
phil barbaccia	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	I've been in san jose my whole life and grew up up with looking at that radar tower. Now I can see it from my backyard real clearly can't wait to bring my son up to see it. It would be a horrible to tear it down.
James Foley	Saratoga	CA	95070	United States	7/18/2012	The tower is an important part of our history. I don't want future generations to dismiss/forget the Cold War.
Jack Tonkin	Roseville	CA	95661	United States	7/18/2012	Grew up and lived in San Jose 1956-1989. Miss the Radar "beep" on my stereo when living in South San Jose. First dove hunting trio on Mt. Umunhum in 1960's. A definite landmark that should be preserved!
Debora Kaashoek	San Jose	CA	95120	United States	7/18/2012	The radar tower is a South Bay ICON!!!
Alan Noyes	San Jose	CA	95118	United States	7/18/2012	It is a San Jose Landmark. Keeping it will both honor the people who were protecting our country as well as remind us of the folly of a war which could have destroyed both us and the Soviet Union.
Lucille David	San Jose	CA	95136	United States	7/18/2012	Please save the tower. It's part of our cold war history that needs to be preserved.

Jeff Adams	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/18/2012	Save the Cube! The radar tower perched on top of Mt Umunhum is a beacon here in the south bay and should be saved. It draws me to Mt Um whether I am returning to the valley by car or hiking the Priest Rock/Limekiln trails in Sierra Azul or simply seeing it tower above the valley on a neighborhood walk. It is important to preserve not only for its historical significance but also for its potential use in the future as a museum. There are many possibilities for what could be on display inside from a working simulation of what the radar towers operations were like to community outreach on the history of the Ohlone people and valley in general.
David Sturrock	Marshall	MN	56258	United States	7/18/2012	Having lived in Santa Clara County for most of the Cold War era I can attest that the Mt. Tom Pavel	San Jose	CA	95117	United States	7/18/2012	The tower is an important landmark that marks the hill and gives it its special identity.
Lee McLaughlin	Los Gatos	CA	95032	United States	7/18/2012	The tower is a good reminder of the Cold War. Because of the information I learned at this lecture, I would like to see the tower saved. It is part of our Valley history. Save the Tower! J. Lee McLaughlin

I am sure that he is not the only retired air force radar tech thst has memories of signing into the tower as he flew in the airplane past the tower and patrolled the coast to defend us against the communist threat.

Mike Boden	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/18/2012	Too many reasons but I'll try. 1) I grew up in the valley and no matter which direction we were traveling, once we saw Mt Umunhum, we had a beacon to guide us home. 2) The Cold War was a very significant part of world history. Mt Um was there to know we were protected from the threats of the era. 3) I miss the star that use to light up on the tower during the holiday season. It was visible throughout the valley and it gave a sense of "peace on Earth". There's more please save the tower!!
Paul Pesek				United States	7/18/2012	It is important that we preserve structures that represent historical importance of an area. In this case, the radar tower is a reminder of the Cold War and how close we were to a 3rd World War. Furthermore, it is a reminder to all Americans of the importance that our armed forces have played in preserving / protecting the U.S. Constitution and our rights as citizens. Finally, the radar tower provides a marker for geographic reference, similar to the Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton.
Stephen Khoobyarian	Long Beach	CA	90832	United States	7/18/2012	This is a piece of Almaden History. I grew up looking at this building which contributed to us winning the cold war. It is iconic and should be preserved for future generations to teach them the importance of the area in World affairs and defense of our great Nation.
Christine Burns				United States	7/18/2012	To preserve history - to remind those of us who lived through the Cold War and teach those that didn't.
Alayne Yellum	San Jose	CA	95124	United States	7/18/2012	This tower reflects our times and cultural values. It needs to be preserved.
Charles Myers				United States	7/18/2012	I actively bike in the Santa Cruz mountains and appreciate seeing this cold-war relic peeking out over hilltops as I ride. Like the mercury smelter in Almaden Quicksilver or the Nike base in the Marin headlands, this tower is an artifact of our past that should be preserved for future generations.
jeffrey benson	san jose	CA	95125	United States	7/18/2012	I grew up in the bay always seeing this historic tower. It'd be irresponsible to destroy it, and future generations wouldn't know about this tower and personnel who protected the bay area during the war.
